Original data: United States of America, Bureau of the Census. Eighth Census of the United States, 1860. Washington, D.C.: National Archives and Records Administration, 1860. M653, 1,438 rolls.

Description:
This database is an index to individuals enumerated in the 1860 United States Federal Census, the Eighth Census of the United States. Census takers recorded many details including each person's name, age as of the census day, sex, color; birthplace, occupation of males over age fifteen, and more. No relationships were shown between members of a household. Additionally, the names of those listed on the population schedule are linked to actual images of the 1860 Federal Census.

Clarke Co. also, appear to have come from Guilford Co, NC.

On 3 Aug I wrote Mrs. Thomas Lawrence Spengler, 827 High St., Jackson, MS 39204. She is listed as the owner of the Charles A. MOORE Bible which contains "John H. MOORE and Eliza B. FINLEY were married." Lemuel C. was the father of Charles. I am trying to find out if there is any connection to our line.

In February I acquired a computer. Prior to that time I used the Cook System for my genealogical data. Not real sure what I am going to do in the future. I am putting all my miscellaneous data on disks. I am inclosing a copy of my Family Unit Sheet (FUS) on _____ FINDLEY (FUS FI178) and John H. MOORE (FUS 1MO196). I have some information on some descendants. Let me know what you are interested in.

Two years ago I had some correspondence with James M. STEINWINDER, P O Box 524, Gautier MS 39553. Not real sure what it was about now.

Looking forward to hearing from you soon, I am

Sincerely yours,

James W. Turnipseed, Jr.

John H. MOORE and Eliza B. FINLEY were married.

The above entry appears in the Charles A. MOORE Bible; which also contains:
C. A. MOORE and Martha F. HUMPHRIES were m. by the Rev. E. M. FORBES, 11 Jan 1848, Currituck Co., NC; and,
Louis H. BABB and Emily D. MOORE were m. by the Rev. T. W. BABB, 22 Dec 1870 in Currituck Co., NC.; and,

Dear Rod,

Your letter of 3 Aug was wonderful news. A friend once said genealogy was like Christmas. He always went to the mail box looking to see what Santa Claus had brought. Santa really was good today!

I am going to have to hug and kiss that Pat Edwards if I ever catch up with her-even if she was only partially correct. Isabella FINDLEY and John H. MOORE were my maternal g g g grandparents. So far as I know I am not related to the STEINWINDER or COLLINS families.

I think the best way to share your good news is to send copies of this letter to several people. All of us pooling our data should result in all of us learning more about our ancestors.

Isabella was married at the home of her brother Alexander in Clarke County, AL. Doris Finley Good, Rt 1, Box 53, Hiltons, VA 24258 is a descendant of Alexander and is working on the FINLEY line.

Willis T. Finley is a descendant of Eleven FINLEY. We have not been able to make a connection with him yet but feel there must be one--FINLEYs all in the same area. He has accumulated a lot of data from several other researchers

A copy for Mrs. Patricia Edwards, 1765 Silverado Trail, Napa, CA 94558, so she will know how much I appreciate her telling you about me.

A copy for Vera Floyd, P O Box 595, Tunica, MS, to get her in the loop. I am certainly glad that she made the FGS on John and Isabella and sent it to you.

A copy to (Mrs. Henry) Wilma Wiginton, Rt 3, Box 321, Louiseville, MS 39339. She is a descendant of Mary Miller MOORE, as am I, and sent me the information that put me on the correct path. See the "Wanted" inclosed.

The "Wanted" also shows how I am related. Going to have to think of what else I have that you would be interested in.

Last October my wife, Faith, and I went to Philadelphia, MS, and found the graves of the BISHOPS and MOORES. I made photographs and can have a copy made for anyone who wants one. We stopped in Birmingham to visit a RIVERS cousin and gather data on that line. We went on to Albertville and met Doris Good. I tried to photograph a FINLEY Bible without much success.

The FINLEY family, (Alexander, Isabella, Thomas) there is a Thomas involved in

SAMUEL MOORE

Samuel Moore, son of Edward Moore of Lincoln County, Kentucky was born May 11, 1763 in Pennsylvania and died November 3, 1852 in Marshall County, Tennessee. He married Elizabeth Berry in Lincoln County on December 20, 1790. Elizabeth Moore was born February 11, 1771, in Virginia and died August 9, 1838, in Maury County (now Marshall) Tennessee. She was the daughter of John Berry who died prior to July 20, 1790 (will probated) and his wife Hannah.

Samuel Moore was member of the Virginia militia, serving in 1780 in Captain John Boyle's Company.

In 1812 he moved to Maury County, Tennessee and purchased land on Globe Creek in 1815 on which Mooresville is located. On September 30, 1834, he deeded his property to his son, Ashley Moore, who would care for Samuel and his wife for their lifetime. In the 1850 census of Marshall County he was still living in the household with son, Ashley.

Samuel and Elizabeth are buried in the Old Bear Creek Cemetery, near Mooresville and their tombstones read as follows:

ANDREW NEIL

Andrew Neil (Neal) was born in April 1775 in Rowan County, North Carolina, and died sometime after the 1840 Census which records him as living in Marshall County at the age of 79. He was the son of William Neil of Burke County, North Carlina, who was a Captain in the Revolutionary War. His pension papers refer to his wife, Mary, but her maiden name is not given.

He was living in Burke County, North Carolina, when called into service. He served as private under Captain Thomas Kennedy and marched from Burke County, North Carolina, to South Carolina where his company encountered the British. He served several tours with Captain Jonathan Kemp keeping down uprisings caused by the Indians. He was discharged by Captain Kemp, who was his neighbor in Burke County.

According to his pension, nine years after peace was made he moved to Davidson County, Tennessee, about 10 miles from where the city of Nashville now stands. About 1806, he moved south of Duck River to a place called the "Big Spring", where the town of Farmington now stands, in Bedford County (now Marshall) Tennessee. They were among the first settlers in this community. In 1818 he moved to Marengo County, Alabama, where he lived until 1839 when he moved back to the same neighborhood in Marshall County.

His pension papers mention two daughters:

1. Violet Neil, who married a Cathey.
2. Esther Neil, who married a Reed.

There used to be a small cemetery, long since destroyed, northwest of the village of Farmington, near the big spring; and it is thought that Andrew and Mary Neil were buried there in unmarked graves.

DAVID MOORE

David Moore was born September 17, 1758, probably in Virginia, and died in Madison County, Kentucky, on December 2, 1831. He was the son of Levi and Hannah Moore of Greenbrier County, Virginia. He married Jane Depriest, daughter of William and Alsie Annie (Elliott) Depriest of Amherst County, Virginia. They were married at the home of Jane's uncle, James Elliott, in Augusta County, Virginia, on August 17, 1788.

According to the application for pension, David Moore enlisted in the American Revolution as a boy of 18 years, at Stanton, Augusta County, Virginia. He served first, a term of three years as a private in the Virginia Line and remembered the names of his officers, St. Clair, of Captain Kirk, of Colonel Moffitt and of Lewis. He was later a volunteer for some months, after his regular term of service expired, in Colonel McCrory's Regiment, under whom he marched to North Carolina and took part in the Battle of Guilford Courthouse. Jane Moore, his widow, stated she heard him say he was in the battles at Stoney Point and at Monmouth.

Shortly after the war, in 1791, David Moore is found buying 250 acres of land in Madison County, Kentucky. He bought land in Rockcastle County and Pulaski County, Kentucky in 1824 and 1828 respectively and at the time of his death in 1831, he owned 427 acres of good bluegrass land and five slaves.

David and his son, Levi were expert stonecutters and his son William Depriest Moore was educated to be a Presbyterian minister.

David Moore is buried at the old homeplace in the Moore family cemetery in Madison County, Kentucky, marked with a marble slab which reads, "David Moore, son of Levi and Hannah Moore. B. 1758, D. 1831".

Jane Moore evidently left Kentucky soon after her husband's death and came to live near her son William Depriest Moore, in Petersburg, Tennessee. In 1840 she appears before the Bedford County, Tennessee, court in Shelbyville to make application for a pension. She was granted a pension $80. per annum. Jane Moore died in Petersburg, Marshall County, Tennessee, and is buried in the Yowell Cemetery on the Richmond road east of Petersburg with the following inscription on her tombstone: "In memory of Jane Moore, wife of David Moore, born May 5th 1770, died Feb. 10, 1843, age 72 years, 10 months, 5 days. Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord that they may rest from their labours and their works do follow them. Ex. by S.G.M. Dec. 15, 1850".

Children of David and Jane Moore named in the will were:

1. Ann (Annie) Moore, b. July 17, 1789, married April 5, 1803, to Freeman Bivins of Missouri.
2. Levi Moore, b. May 26, 1791, d. Aug. 18, 1871, married Polly Heatherly, b. Jan. 1, 1791, d. Aug. 8, 1878.
3. William Depriest Moore, b. Feb. 7, 1792, d. Nov. 1, 1855, married Hannah Leonard, b. Jan. 10, 1795, d. 1886.
4. Jane Moore, married (1) Jonathan English, (2) Joseph McKissick.
5. Samuel E. Moore, married Aggie Rodes.
6. Polly Moore, married Dec. 24, 1812, Wilson Gillespie.
7. David D. Moore, married July 22, 1825, Rebecca English.
8. George W. Moore, married Rhoda Yowell.

WILLIAM . MOORE: This is our addition to Mary's history on William Moore. We found the Thomas middle name somewhere but cannot verify it.

William Thomas Moore was born in Derry County, Ireland and grew up there. Bellaghy, Derry County, Ireland is now in North Ireland and that is the town William grew up in. A school still stands which is likely the school he attended (school was built in 1820). The property is next to and behind the ESSO filling station. Bellaghy presently has a post office, drug store, Masonic hall, two churches, one cemetary, gas station, a small grocery store and some other small businesses. A few homes are along one main street which is the highway thru town. One other street dead ends into the major street and that comprises the town. On all sides of the town are working farms.

William's wife Sarah Elizabeth Vance was said to be from Castledawson, Ireland - about 3 or 4 miles away. They were married in 1843 but do now know where. William served 13 years in the British Army. Three children, Elizabeth (Lizza), John and Robert James Vance Moore were born in Ireland. William George Henry Moore was born in Quebec, Canada. We do not positively know where the other children were born but we presume it to be Rio, MS. We know nothing about the early life of the children. John was said to have remembered being on shipboard when he was younger. It is also believed that John and his father and possibly others could speak a little Choctaw.

One source of material stated that William Thomas served at Gilbraltor, the West Indies, then to Canada while in the British Army. Another source said that he served in Bermuda and Canada.

William Thomas mustered out of the service in Canada and migrated to Rio, MS. He never returned to Ireland. There were differnt version on how William took his family to Rio, MS One version was that they crossed the border from Canada, traveled to the Ohio River, then floated to the Mississippi River and down to the State of MS and overland to the Rio area. Another source said he came thru Maryland, then to MS.;, another said he came down thru Virginia or West Virginia, then to MS.

Rio early history (researched by Marilyn Myers).

Rio was established April 9, 1860 with John S. Bird as postmaster. The community was in the extreme southwest corner of Kemper Co. about 2 miles from Neosho County to the west and two miles from Lauderdale County on the south. The community was established in the mid 1850's by the Calvert, King and Poole families. The post office served the Rio community for almost a century and was discontinued May 31, 1958.

Rio was located near an Indian encampment. Most of the Choctaw Indians were relocated but some remained in the area after the treaty. When the village was thriving it was not unusual to see as many as three or four hundred men, women and children coming into Rio on horseback, in wagons and on foot. Rio was the tournament center of the county where horseback riding contests and similar affairs were held. Moscow was nearby and was a lively village and at one time had perhaps the best school in the county.

The first post office was located in Mr. Poole's store, and the mail was brought up from Meridian on horseback once a week. This was the general meeting place on Saturday afternoon for all the people for miles around. Many went to town to get the mail and buy supplies.

Horse racing shooting matches, etc. were the main feature at the tournament. Winners were given prizes; often one was awarded a nice beef. Some of the early settlers here were Charles B. Tinsley, who came during the spring of 1833, a few months before the county was organized; the Kings , Harbours, Calverts, Herringtons, Sam Poole, whose four sons became physicians, John Stephens, A.J.Lee, Wesley W. Temple, W.M. White, Isaac Ethridge, Lemuel Posey, Chisholms, Snowdens, Williamsons and Pruitts.

WILLIAM MOORE (1822-1892) and SARAH VANCE MOORE (1824-1905), ANCESTORS OF JOHN M. MOORE, WILLIAM JAMES MOORE, LILLIAN VENIA MOORE MYERS, AND myself EARL MYRON MYERS.

FOREWORD BY EARL M. MYERS

My wife, Marilyn Josephine Lewis Myers has worked on the Moore family history for many years. After retirement I promised Marilyn that I would organize her material and type it, which I have been doing.

Then a few years ago, we visited a library in De Kalb, Mississippi, the county seat of Kemper County and wrote our name in their geneology book as having an interest in the MOORE history. Bobby Moore saw our names there and wrote that his sister Mary M. Alexander was also working on our same ancestral line. We wrote Mary and have visited her and kept in contact ever since. Mary was working on the same linea ge, William Moore. Her direct line of ancestry is William George Henry Moore and my direct line is his brother John M. Moore.

Mary completed her work and did a fantastic job on the Moore history and in a short time. We owe her a great debt of gratitude for her efforts. I am using Mary's work as the basic Moore history documents and am copying her info. where I can use it in my writeup. In this report, my family line is William Thomas Moore, John M. Moore, William Jesse Moore, Lily Moore Myers and myself Earl M. Myers. This writeup will be given to a few relatives (particularly to those who have helped) and will share my info, with others as they become interested in Moore history. I have been fortunate to obtain sufficient informatio n to write biographies on John Moore and most of his children - and - mainly my own grandfather and his children (my aunts and uncles). This was only possible with the help of others in the family. The biographies will be given to a few of my cousins and shared with others who have a particular interest.

Mary has given me permission to use her material any way that it will help, and I have used a lot of her basic information. Mary is very thorough in her work and her informatio n is very reliable. In this writeup I have used another form for family groups whereas Mary used the computer software format. Thats only because I became used to using the older forms. For this report, only the information in my direct line have been included from Mary's history.

MOORE FAMILY HISTORY AND THOUGHTS by Earl M. Myers.

Marilyn Myers, my wife, did all of the work in obtaining the information on MOORES that we found. Many times in the past Marilyn would convince me that we should take another way thru Mississippi on our way home from Gulfport to St. Louis. Somewhere along the way, her hidden agenda would surface and she would say to us (me and our kids) that it would only take a few minutes to run into a courthouse someplace on our route, and check on some old records. After many years I finally quit griping, as she most always was working on famillies of MYERS, MOORE or LANDRUM, all on my side of the family. We have been in a lot of courthouses, cemetaries and libraries over parts of the South. When we were trying to find a house, church or cemetary or other landmark we often had to listen to the kids talk about us being lost. We never thought about being lost, but many times we didn't really know where we were at the moment. We always had the conviction that we would find whatever we were looking for and most of the time we did; but not always.

My mother, Lily Moore Myers tried hard to help us in her last years but early on she seemed to think "that old stuff was a waste of time". Earlier she dodged many questions concering great-grandpa Landrum, on her mothers side of the family. My uncle Willard Moore was very helpful, especially on two items. He told us about great-grandpa William P. Landrum being in the Civil War. Marilyn then researched this info, and found that William had indeed been in the Civil War, but on the wrong team. He had been in the Union Army. My mother thought that was disgraceful so she never told Marilyn. She could have saved us years of effort by telling us sooner.

The biggest break of all came when Willard found the Zion Baptist Church Cemetary at Rio, MS which gave us some new incentive and new paths for research.

There is considerable more work to be done on this history. We know almost nothing about William Thomas Moore before he came to Rio, MS. We have promised Mary Alexander that we would pursue that aveune and we will do so. It is very interesting that everyone doesn't like to share age information, etc. for family sheets. It makes it harder to research and find the info, but we'll keep plugging away and eventually get the info anyway. Once in a while you find info that you didn't expect, such as grandpa Landrum being in the Union Army.

It is also interesting that many of the Irish traits we think of as Irish show in the Moore clan; the quick tempers, sometimes the black moods, readiness to fight and the quick wit. Theres also the cheerful smile, the fun-loving part and caring for others.

FORWARD

This information is only as accurate as my sources and my ability to interpret antique handwriting in faded ink with occasional misspelling.

Many sources are contradictory. For birth dates, a Bible record is usually used over a conflicting tombstone date; while for death dates, a tombstone record will be used rather than a conflicting newspaper account.

This information I will happily share with anyone who is interested. In an effort to be accurate as possible, please bring to my attention any errors you may find.

WILLIAM MOORE AND SARAH VANCE

There is uncertainty about the exact date of William Moore and Sarah's birth. We assume the Bible record was the work of one of them. So that we tend to accept the Bible as correct. A Family Bible presently in the possession of Willie Lou Powell gives the date of William's birth as 1822. A newspaper notice at the time of his death and his marker in the cemetery (engraved in stone) gives the year as 1820. In the Bible Sarah's birth is recorded as 12 July 1824. Her headstone in Zion cemetery records her death date as 10 Feb. 1905 with this quote. "Age 83 years and 81 days," a discrepancy of several months.

Kathleen Mason of Jackson, MS has a picture of Sarah as a young women that was made in Belfast, Ireland by J. Mack photo artist of 84 York Street.

This couple was married in the town of Bellaghy, Londonderry County, Ireland, 19 Feb. 1843 by Episcopal minister, Rev. G. H. Ash.

Family legend tells us that William Moore was an officer in the British army. He served in the West Indies, Gibralter, and Canada before moving to Kemper County, MS. After William George Henry was born in Canada in 1852 we lose track of them till the census in 1860.

The Kemper County census list the family as #986 on page 140/

Dwelling #	NAME	AGE	BIRTHPLACE
986	Moore, Wm.	36	Ireland
	Sarah	34
	John	14
	Ellen J.	11
	W.G.H.	8	Canada
	S.A.	6	MS
	V.E.S.	3
	R.J.V.	1

Note that the first child, Elizabeth, is not listed. We later learned that she had married in 1857. This lead us to surmise that the family settled in Kemper County between 1852 and 1857. The book "My Cross and Hand Families" by Jean Hand Henry on page 205 shows Sarah Vance to be a sister of George Vance who settled in the same area.

The 1870 Census of Kemper County lists this family on page

Mary M. Alexander

145 dwelling #109. Ellen J. is the oldest child living at home and her birthplace is listed as the West Indies. Did Sarah and the children go with William to his various posts of service?

The search for the year and route of travel between Canada and MS continues. Earl Myers of St. Louis, great grandson of John, has been told by older family members that they crossed the border from Canada into the U.S., traveled overland to the Ohio River, and then, floated down the MS River. This may account for the fact that no immigration record can be found. In the late 1950's, while working in San Diego, Edwin Moore, grandson of W.G.H., who grew up in Lauderdale County, MS, met Nate Moore who grew up in Ohio. They discussed family roots. Nate's forefathers came with a group from Ireland who crossed the Canadian border and settled in Ohio, while others in the group continued on with plans to settle in the deep South and raise cotton... sound familiar? It is hard to understand why the birthplace of W.G.H. should be listed in the 1900 Census as Maryland. Could the census enumerator have gotten his information from child or neighbor who was not well informed? Alas! Not all census takers were perfect.

William and Sarah had been in Kemper Co. less that a decade when the Civil War erupted. Confederate records at the Archives in Jackson, MS show that William enlisted at Scooba 3 March 1862 and was assigned to Company K of the 40th Alabama Infantry Regiment with the rank of Lieutenant.

The compiled roll of Co. D First Alabama Regiment C.S.A, states that William Moore was captured at Island #10 in April and was requires to take Oath of Allegiance to the U.S. Some historians say that early in the war the Union Army had no facilities for prisoners so they were allowed to take the Oath and return home with the promise no to take any further part in the war.

Island #10 is in the MS River between the Memphis, TN and New Madrid, MO. The story of the unsuccessful defense of this island is described in "Military History of MS" by Dunbar Roland on pages 144, 378, and 477. A more picturesque story is in "The Civil War" and American Heritage publications starting on page 116 with pictures on page 132.

We Know that William Moore was a property owner but the Kemper County courthouse burned in 1887 and again in 1912 so this record can not be traced, again we go to family legend. When William Moore died 26 May 1892 His Property was sold to three different people rather than being divided between the children who by this time had established their own homes. We have reason to think that his son, Robert, was one of the buyers.

By 1900 we find the widow Sarah Moore in the Lauderdale County Census listed as head of the household with her daughter Fannie and Son-in-law John Joiner living with her. Sarah died 10 Feb. 1905, in Meridian at the home of daughter Sarah Victoria who had married Henry Clay Chisolm.

Both William and Sarah are buried in Zion Cemetery in Kemper near the Community, Rio.

WILLIAM . MOORE: This is our addition to Mary's history on William Moore. We found the Thomas middle name somewhere but cannot verify it.

William Thomas Moore was born in Derry County, Ireland and grew up there. Bellaghy, Derry County, Ireland is now in North Ireland and that is the town William grew up in. A school still stands which is likely the school he attended (school was built in 1820). The property is next to and behind the ESSO filling station. Bellaghy presently has a post office, drug store, Masonic hall, two churches, one cemetary, gas station, a small grocery store and some other small businesses. A few homes are along one main street which is the highway thru town. One other street dead ends into the major street and that comprises the town. On all sides of the town are working farms.

William's wife Sarah Elizabeth Vance was said to be from Castledawson, Ireland - about 3 or 4 miles away. They were married in 1843 but do now know where. William served 13 years in the British Army. Three children, Elizabeth (Lizza), John and Robert James Vance Moore were born in Ireland. William George Henry Moore was born in Quebec, Canada. We do not positively know where the other children were born but we presume it to be Rio, MS. We know nothing about the early life of the children. John was said to have remembered being on shipboard when he was younger. It is also believed that John and his father and possibly others could speak a little Choctaw.

One source of material stated that William Thomas served at Gilbraltor, the West Indies, then to Canada while in the British Army. Another source said that he served in Bermuda and Canada.

William Thomas mustered out of the service in Canada and migrated to Rio, MS. He never returned to Ireland. There were differnt version on how William took his family to Rio, MS One version was that they crossed the border from Canada, traveled to the Ohio River, then floated to the Mississippi River and down to the State of MS and overland to the Rio area. Another source said he came thru Maryland, then to MS.;, another said he came down thru Virginia or West Virginia, then to MS.

Rio early history (researched by Marilyn Myers).

Rio was established April 9, 1860 with John S. Bird as postmaster. The community was in the extreme southwest corner of Kemper Co. about 2 miles from Neosho County to the west and two miles from Lauderdale County on the south. The community was established in the mid 1850's by the Calvert, King and Poole families. The post office served the Rio community for almost a century and was discontinued May 31, 1958.

Rio was located near an Indian encampment. Most of the Choctaw Indians were relocated but some remained in the area after the treaty. When the village was thriving it was not unusual to see as many as three or four hundred men, women and children coming into Rio on horseback, in wagons and on foot. Rio was the tournament center of the county where horseback riding contests and similar affairs were held. Moscow was nearby and was a lively village and at one time had perhaps the best school in the county.

The first post office was located in Mr. Poole's store, and the mail was brought up from Meridian on horseback once a week. This was the general meeting place on Saturday afternoon for all the people for miles around. Many went to town to get the mail and buy supplies.

Horse racing shooting matches, etc. were the main feature at the tournament. Winners were given prizes; often one was awarded a nice beef. Some of the early settlers here were Charles B. Tinsley, who came during the spring of 1833, a few months before the county was organized; the Kings , Harbours, Calverts, Herringtons, Sam Poole, whose four sons became physicians, John Stephens, A.J.Lee, Wesley W. Temple, W.M. White, Isaac Ethridge, Lemuel Posey, Chisholms, Snowdens, Williamsons and Pruitts.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

To the Memory of William Moore, By Longstreet Lodge No. 268, Oktibbeha, MS.

To the Worthy Master and Members of Longstreet no. 268 A.F. & A. masons:

We the committee appointed to draft regulations relative to the death of our aged and beloved brother, William Moore, who departed this life at his residence in Lauderdale, MS May 28th, 1892, submit the following:

Brother Moore was born in Darry Co., Ireland, August 10, 1820, where he was raised and educated. Served in the English army for thirteen years. The seven last as 1st sergeant of his company. Emigrated to America in 1850. First to the West Indies, then to Canada, thence to this State, where he lived an honorable citizen for thiry-nine years, having filled several offices of trust and served in the late war one year, and was appointed to his old position as sergeant, which he was surely master of. Being highly educated, he was well and favorly known in this and the adjoining counties as a high grade teacher, and will be long remembered by many of the young people of our land. Brother Moore having belonged to the high Church of England, on moving to America, attached himself to the Baptist Church, where he lived a humble soldier of the Cross, his faith seeming to be perfectly unshaken, even until death. He was made a Mason in Center Ridge Lodge No. 150 in 1861; a Royal Arch at Lauderdale Sprigs in 1864, and in all the travels of this useful and good man we find him to be open and frank, and we ask the adoption of the following resolutions:

First-that in the death of Bro. Moore this lodge not only looses one of its oldest but most useful members, having served as secretary for the last thirteen years with faithfulness and ability. The community in which he resided has lost a very candid and honest citizen, the church a useful and pious member, having served it for a number of years as clerk, and his dearest companion, in her late and feeble days, has sustained an irreparable loss in the death of a truly devoted husband for almost three score years; his children a lenient and energetic father, whose examples are worthy of their emulation.

Second-that while we humbly bow to the will of an allwise God in calling our beloved from his afflictions, which he had borne for many years with zeal and Christian fortitude, to that eternal rest on high that knows no pain nor even death, we ask that the sympathy of this lodge be hereby tendered the family and relatives of the deceased, and express a fond hope that one day they may meet their loved one in eternal spring.

Third-that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this lodge, and a copy sent to THE MERIDIAN NEWS for publication, with instructions that a copy of paper containing the same be mailed to each of the family of the deceased, and that the members of this Lodge wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

JOHN M. MOORE

This first son of William and Sarah was born about 1846 before the family left Ireland. He is listed in the 1860 census of Kemper Co. as a 14 year old.

He was still a teenager when he joined Company C of the First Miss. Calvary. We are attempting to obtain his confederate record.

By the 1870 Census we find John, age 23 as a farmer in Kemper Co. married to Emilie (Truitt) and their first son William James is five months old.

Our best source of information is from Earl Myers, who's mother was Lillian, daughter of William James. Earl, the great grandson of John, lives at 11906 Spruce Haven Road, St. Louis, MO 36146.

The following is a direct quote from Earl Myers, "I remember Mom and Dad taking us to see my great grandpaw in Beauvoir, which was the hospital then. He stayed in a room which had several beds down each side with a wide isle in the middle. I remember it as being almost bare except for the beds and bedside tables. He was on the left the first or second bed. We would go outside and talk. I must have been about ten at the time. Mom cautioned us not to touch anything as some of them may have T.B.

I remember great grandpa as being very short. I could understand very little of what he said. He always had the Galic language lilt to his speech.

I remember attending his funeral at Seminary, Miss. It was during the depression, Mom hardly had any money. Uncle Milford and his wife, a very nice lady, had me try on shoes. The weather was cold and Uncle Milford owned a store at the intersection. I came away with high top tennis shoes. Uncle Sam lived up on a hill about two blocks away."

JOHN M. AND EMILY TRUITT MOORE:

John was the eldest son of William Thomas and Sarah Vance Moore and probably was born in Bellaghy, Ireland in Derry County. His father, William Thomas Moore was born in Ballaghy and his wife Sarah Vance was born in a nearby town named Castledawson, Ireland.

It is not known by us whether John's father married before or after he joined the British Army, nor where he was married and where the first three childred were born. William Thomas was said to have been stationed at Gilbraltor, the West Indies, and then Quebec, Canada where he mustered out of the British Army. John was somewhere between 12 and 14 years old at the time and the family migrated to Rio, Mississippi with a sister and a brother, also born in Ireland. It is believed that William Thomas settled in Mississippi to join some of his wife's Vance family that were already living there. There were other Irish immigrants arrivingin the area and some said the area was nicknamed little Ireland.

""(Willard Moore) a grandson of John Moore's had always heard that grandfather John was about 14 when the family moved to Rio, Miss.""

John is shownin the 1860 Kemper County, MS. census as 14 years old, but it is not known how long he had been there.

""(Conversation with Lily Moore Myers in June 1971). Grandpa John Moore was the oldest son in the family and he spoke broken English. He had come with his Mother and Father from Ireland to Canada with a brother and sister, Robert James Vance Moore, and Eliza Moore). They went from Canada to Virginia for a short time, may have been West Virginia, then to Meridian, MS. and are probably buried up there. Grandpa's brother Robert went to New Orleans and changed his name to Mour (this was not the case).

Someone said he was about 12 when in Canada, another said 14 years old. He was a small man when grown, about 5'4" tall. He spent some time as a veteran with illness at the Jefferson Davis home when it was a rest home for Confederate Veterans. Lily remembered that relatives mentioned that John talked about his boat trip to Canada when he was young.""

It is possible that John attended the same school in Ireland as his father if the family stayed in Ballaghy when the children were young. The school that William Thomas probably attended is still standing, a red brick building, and in fair conditiion except some of the slates were missing from the roof. The young man that owns the place lives next door and said he planned to eventually fix up the place. The school is located behind some storefronts in Bellaghy at the end of a street in the middle of town. A small ESSO gas station is in front of the old school house. The school was built in 1822 and is likely the school William Thomas attended as he was born in 1820. When Marilyn and I visited the area in 1989 we saw the school, the church near the area and areas all around the town. We located one home where it was said the last Moore lived in. This was an unmarried lady by the name of Lucy Moore. Her house was sod roofed and was in bad condition. The roof had partially caved in and completely in disrepair. We talked to several people in the town who were the area historians but we received no real help on family history.

John's mother was Sarah Vance Moore and there is a great amount of geneological informatioin on her family. Some of her Vance relatives had settled at Rio, MS. in the SW corner of Kemper County and this is likely the reason the family went to Rio. It was difficult to make a living in Ireland where they came from. John was the eldest son and might have inherited farm property from his father if he owned property but he ended up in America.

John had an Irish Gaelic brogue but his sister and brother who were also born in Ireland did not have an accent. John spent the next three years helping his dad get the farm established and enjoying the new country. The Civil War was upon them and John went into the Confederate Army at age 17 and joined the Calvary on the condition that he provide his own horse, which he did. John joined the Army, Company C. 1st Mississippi Calvary and was listed in the Covington County Pension rolls after the war. Years later he told Frances Moore, a grandchild that he had to share his ear of corn with his horse while in the Army.

His father, William Thomas Moore, was given a Lieutenants rank and mustered in the Confederate Army. He was captured about a year later, promised neutrality and returned home.

After the war, John returned home and married Emily Truitt at Rio, MS or nearby, we think. Rio is located in the SW corner of Kemper County, MS. They were listed in the Kemper Count 1870 Census, 593, Roll 735 as seen in the Jackson, MS Archives. The census was listed at the Rio Post Office, 28th day of June 1870.

MOORE, John	23	M	W	Farmer	Born Ireland
MOORE, Emily	18	F	W	Keeping House	Miss.
MOORE, William	5/12	M	W	AT home

After a while John & Emily moved and located on acreage near Seminary, MS. and lived in a log cabin for years. The map on the following page shows the farm location as highways show it now in 1992. The home was located near the area where his sons Mifford and Samuel later farmed. It was said the cabin was very neat and unique and was torn down many years ago.

John and Emily were small people, John was about 5'4" and Emily was a bit shorter than he was. Emily had small hands and feet, and their children were all larger than the parents. When grown, William Jesse and Samuel were about 5'10", Mifford about 5'8" and Joseph (Jody) a bit shorter. The three daughters were average height for the times.

John cleared the land and farmed as much acreage as he could. He used a horse and plowed all the land by hand. The soil was not rich as there was a lot of clay in the area but families made a living with everyone working long and hard. He farmed mostly and cut timber sometimes. There were all types of vegetables grown with varying degrees of sucess. There were: Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, corn, okra, peas, beans, sugar cane, butter beans, tomatoes, watermelons, mushmellons and other vegetables when they could get the seeds. Some cotton was also grown. Wheat was hard to grow and corn or corn meal was usually bartered to obtain flour when available. Flour could also be bought but stores were not near.

Emily and her daughters worked very hard canning the vegatables during the summer to store up for the winter.

There was usually a dog around. They had horses most of the time, kept cows for milk, goats at times, some sheep at times and chickens for eggs. The boys helped hunt wild game, squirrels, rabbits and sometimes a wild turkey. They also raised hogs and butchered them in the fall, canned some in lard, and smoked pork sides and hams. They also had pear trees, persimmons, peach trees and hard shell pecan trees. Dew berries and black berries were a treat in the early summer and some were canned. Sugar was hard to get but sugar cane syrup was used for sweetening.

It was kiddingly said by some that John Moore was an Irish Banty Rooster.

Emily mostly named the children and she named the boys beautiful double names and gave the girls single names.

There were so many things that could happen to a family and most health problems could be serious. Diptheria was a killer of children, the flu took its toll. There were rattlesnakes to watch out for. Cuts were usually doctored with pine sap, horse linament, alcohol (whiskey) or coal oil. Colds and pneumonia were treated with poultices of lard (preferably goose grease), camphor, sulfur and kerosene when it became available. Teetn were a real problem as there were no dentists available. People brushed their teeth some by using small branches of a gum tree, pulping the end a little and brushing with salt.

There were also great times to be had. A traveling preacher would mean all the peoplewould get together and bring food, and do a lot of singing and have a lot of fun. John would clog and would do so when they had a hoe down. Usually the preachers were not so much for the fun part. Fishing in the creeks, hunting squirrels and rabbits and playing in their favorite swimming hole.

There was always story telling times and good recreation during the winter when there was not much gardening that could be done. Tales of panthers that could scream like a woman and entice someone to go looking then attack them, tales of far away places, tales of what was happening in the large cities, tales of circuses and of politics. The boys always tried to make time with the girls and the girls giggled a lot.

One of the family members remembered that Grandma Emily had said to someone that old Sarah was really a mean old woman.

John did not believe strongly in school and thought that the boys should stay on the farm and help him make a living. Emily encouraged the kids in schooling, more so for the boys than for the girls. William Jesse managed to acquire the schooling available in the area at the time. Samuel said later in life that William Jesse had an equivalent 12th grade education and had passed some sort of test to attend Normal College but did not do so. After William Jesse married and moved to Gulfport, Sam went to Gulfport and stayed with his brother and attended school there. He finished high school and returned home and passed a test given by a Doctor in the area and was passed to go into higher education. He ended up teaching school in the area and later did some farming.

Viola, Virgie and Annie all married and moved away from the area for a time. Viola returned to Seminary and stayed with Sam some while her children were growing up. (I think Annie lived with Sam for a while). Mifford married and ran a country store in the area and also farmed. Joseph (Jody) liked farming, married and stayed in the area all his life.

William Jesse met and courted Lou Venia Landrum who lived some ways from them. Venia's father, William Landrum had joined the Union Army during the Civil War and John always felt antagonistic about that, but he did visit William and Venia in Gulfport on occasion.

John and Emily stayed on their farm until both were elderly and Emily could not properly care for John when his health deteriated. Sam convinced them to live with him and they did, although John gripped about that a lot. John needed more care that they could provide and he went to live at Beauvoir, near Gulfport for his final few months of life.

(Earl Myers) ""My mom Lily Moore Myers and dad Myron used to take me and my sisters down to Beauvoir to see Great Grandpa John. I believe we went down there at least a couple of times. Robert Moore, my cousin told me that his family also went down and saw John. I remember that he was very hard to understand and that he was so short. I didn't know why he talked the way he did and all my mom would say was that he was from Ireland. (When we were in Ireland and listened to some of the Irish with the Gaelic brogue I could well understand why you couldn't understand grandpa John.)

I was about 9 years old at the time and he wasn't so much taller than I was. We didn't know why he was there and Mom was so cautious about germs that we never got really close. She thought some of the patients had TB. We would walk outside and visit with him and I still remember that he seemed to appreciate the visits. We felt peculiar around him because of Moms attitude about germs and his speech. But - give Mom and Aunt Wilda credit , they took us kids to see him.

I remember his bed to be about the second or third one down on the left hand side and they were not much more than cots. There were a row on the left and one on the right and quite a few in a row. Robert Moore remembered him as having a bunk bed about in the middle with a porch on the end of the large room. Mom always tried to have us wash our hands as we left and not touch anything while there. John for sure did not want to be there but he needed a lot of help and couldn't be cared for any place else. This was before nursing homes and Medicare.

John died at Beauvoir in February 1932 and was taken back to Seminary for burial. I believe that Uncle Sam came down and took his father back to Seminary. The only part of this I remember was that it was real cold when we got to Seminary. I had terrible shoes and Mom negotiated with Callie, Uncle Miffords wife, to get shoes. I think Great Aunt Callie let her have them for very little money and I remember them to be high top tennis shoes, the first pair I ever had. I was 9 years old when he died.

This info was obtained at Beauvoir but have no idea what the October date was unless it was when he entered Beauvoir. I thought he was there longer than 4 months.

John M. Moore, Covington, Miss. Oct. 25, 1931, 85 years. Company C, 1st Miss. Calvary, Covington County Pension Rolls, Died 2-13-32. Body shipped to Seminary, Mississippi.

Aunt Franks dad, my grandfather, Willie Jessie gave a large bible to his father John. Around 1950, Sam gave the bible to Frank. She had not seen it since about 1936. This bible, unfortunately but understandably caused some hard feelings in the family as they thought the bible would go to them. Too bad as these feelings stay with people all their lives. ""

COMMENT: Earl Myers. It is my opinion that some very good genitics were passed along in the Moore heritage. There is good evidence that William Thomas was very intelligent and the Vances were also. John seemed to have a solid streak of independence and just a bit of the daring. There was also a trace of the Irish black mood that was passed along and that surfaced at times in some of the Moores.

""(Comments from Elsie Rogers, 1990.). Grandpa John had the kids help him around the farm - and called them his little slaves. Elsie's sister Ellen told her that she remembered grandpa John swinging Elsie by the foot and hand as a child. When John was very old - he had someone share crop his old place for a while and he moved back down there. Grandma Emily would not move down with him.

Elsie said she felt Grandpa John received the Lord into his heart before he died. ""

(Comments from Frances Moore Gerhardt). ""Frances said that her first memory of her Granddad in Gulfport was a time when they were there when a bad storm came up. (probably in early 20's). Her dad had to go out in the storm with the boys and cut nine large virgin pines down around the house as he was afraid the storm would uproot them and toss them into the house. John did not like to go to Gulfport after that.

Grandpa John loved to read. Frances' father William Jesse moved his family to Gulfport, Miss and he sent or took reading material from Gulfport to Seminary on occasions. At that time a child could be put on a train in charge of the conductor and met at the other end by a relative. When she was old enough, once in a while her dad would let Frances visit her aunt and uncles and her grandparents. When she went she would go with a big box of westerns, the Post, you name it, and old newspapers. Callie would meet her at the train depot. Sam grumbled at such low reading material for his dad. My dad read everything in sight at our house. I didn't care what Sam said about the reading materials, we took the material anyway.

Frank said John worked hard - had small Collie dog. Emily said that Sarah, Johns mom was nothing but a devil - real mean.

When Frances visited Grandma Emily and stayed the night, Emily closed up the cabin, winter and summer after dark. Frances liked fresh air and Emily closed the windows and Frances could not get them open after everybody was in bed.

There was a little trunk in Grandma Emily Moore's bedroom -sort of like their vault. She thinks it had their important papers in it. (It would be great to obtain a picture of the old trunk for this writeup. Maybe someone will see this and will know its location if it still exists and provide a picture for this history.)

Franks dad, William Jesse had given a large bible to his dad, John. Thats why Sam gave it to her sometime after John died.

Johns bible stated that Thomas Guy was killed by lightning at home on July 8, 1895, Smith Co. Miss. This must have been a close friend or relative.

She said she and her Grandpa John had some good times. When she lived with Callie and Mifford, whe would walk up the hill to Uncle Sams where Grandpa and Grandma were living at the time. Not much of what Grandpa said sunk in at the time as she didn't listen well. She wished later that she had paid more attention.

Grandpa talked about the Civil War and that he had to share his corn with his horse.

There was a fued between the Moores and Landrums because Grandpa Landrum enlisted in the Union Army. Some of the Landrums lived close by but most of them lived near Ellisville near Laurel.

The Moores were respected and picked their friends with care. They belonged to the Methodist church and went to church especially when they had music.

When living with aunt Callie I would stay with Grandpa John and Emily at times when Sam went to Hattisburg or over to Laurel to spend the night.

It was said by family members that Grandpa would put on the little pot for his own family and put on the big pot and little pot when they had special company. Other times he was tight and Grandmother Emily would need to go to her daughter-in-law without him or his two sons, Sam or Mo knowing about it for little things to run the house, even tho she had her little pension and if allowed to use would have been plenty for her needs. Callie eased many paths. He was a little stingy and Aunt Callie would say, swallow a camel, strain a knat to describe his actions.

Frances was staying with Mifford and Callie Moore in the mid and late twenties while going to school and saw John and Emily a lot. She said her Grandpa had a beautiful well cared for beard with thick heavy eyebrows. He had quick movements and twinkling eyes and he looked a bit like Abe Lincoln.

Grandpa John could tell a wonderful after dinner story. He had a wonderful sense of humor. He could dance the Irish jig, and could clog which usually embarrased Sam, his son.

Frances loved to hear him talk. His sight was slipping and he was always a heavy reader. She was called names by him that were not flattering (Frances never knew until years later that the names had to do with the fact that her father Willie had married Lou Venia Landrum, a daughter of our Landrum ancestry that joined the Union Army during the Civil War. That had to take a tremendous amount of courage to do that at the time). She always answered him but wondered why she was called names. Her mom told her over and over not to be rude to any of the Moores, to be kind and helpful to her grandparents. Frances felt she was someone special to her grandparents. The names never hurt and she lived to understand the why of them.

As the folks got older they finally went up to live with Uncle Sam. John hated to be away from his own place but Grandma could not care for him properly and keep the place running by herself. Frances would visit at Sams and read to Grandpa on the front porch. He loved that but would never admit it. Some of the time Frances would need to start reading aloud when he would not be close. He would rock in his rocker inch by inch until he was close to her. His rocker would be facing one way and mine the other way, with our rockers side by side.

A funny thing she remembered was that John would put his coveralls on backwards and pre tend to get all mixed up just to get on Sams nerves. He knew what he was doing.

Roscoe Moore, Uncle Miffords oldest son visited Frank in Greenville, S.C. about 1985 and she said that he looked a lot like Grandpa John Moore.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, William Edward Moore who departed this life so suddenly, Dec. 4, 1927. One year ago today, on that sad day, the one I loved so dearly, the life and joy of my home was called away. The call was short, the shock severe, to part with one I loved so dearly, and more and more each day I miss you. Friends all think the wound is healed, but they little know the sorrow that is in my heart concealed. The flowers placed upon your grave have died and faded away, but you will live my dear husband forever in my heart. There is scarcely an hour that passes but that I think of you and will my dear always.

Sadly missed by wife.
MRS. W. E. MOORE.

JOSEPH OSCAR AND MINNIE LEE BARRETT MOORE:

Joseph Oscar Moore was born on 17 August, 1877 in Lauderdale County, Mississipi to the parents of John and Emily Truitt Moore. He grew up on a farm, went to school, and helped his father and family on their farm until grown, then married Minnie Lee Barrett. They had six children: William Elton Moore, who married Ada Middleton; Alma Velma Moore who married James R. Vaughn; Gersie Nellie Moore who married Charles B. Wade; Vergie Lena Moore who married William Clifton Phillips; Melvia Alice Moore who married Porter Fountain and Ella Rea Moore who married Henry Fountain.
Before Jody died he had 27 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

It was said that Jody liked to farm and worked at farming all his life. he moved to Jones County in 1921 when he was 44 years old. Some of his children were still in school at that time. His home was in the Pecan Grove Community and thats where he stayed until he died in 1951 while visiting a daughter, Velma Vaughn in Gulfport, MS.

(Earl Myers) "I remember uncle Jody when he came down to Gulfport once in a while and Aunt Velma would bring him over to visit my folks. This would have been in the 1930's. My personal feelings may be wrong as I was in my teens at the time but I thought Uncle Jody to be a gentle person. He talked slow so I could see why Velma talked so slow. I think he wore bibb overalls as a great many people did in those days and I vaguely think he may have smoked a pipe. He was not gruff as I thought my own granddad to be and you felt good around him.

My hope is that other people who really knew my Great Uncle Jody after reading this will add to it, correct it and make it more complete.

In This is a typewritten copy of the genealogical data contained in the Moore family Bible now in the possession of Mrs. Anne Finley Shores of Birmingham, Alabama (August, 1975).

The Bible is in very poor condition with some pages missing and some pages torn. A comparison of the Xerox copy should be used when examining the names and dates. The front title page for the Old Testament is missing; also first pages up to page #11. The New Testament title page is intact and I believe the Old Testament title page would have the same copyright date. Entries were made in brown and blue ink.

Diana, does your book say anything about the siblings or parents or place of origin of Jesse? I have info. that he was said to have been from Amhurst or Albemarle Co. VA and to have m. Alley Johnson. I also have names of his children. Jesse appeared first in records of Wilkes Co NC, where there is also a John and Andrew at about this same time. My own ancestor, Sterling Moore b c 1765, moved to southeastern Wilkes Co from Rowan in 1816 and died there 1836. He named a son Jesse, and there's a Daniel Moore mentioned in his will (relation not stated). I know Jesse had a son Daniel. It's possible Sterling might be a nephew, cousin, or some such relation of Jesse, but I don't have anything on who Jesse's sibs or parents might be.
Does your book have any clues on this? I'd appreciate it very much if you can let me know whether it does.

Richard, I wrote you a note earlier today but I got bumped out of prodigy just as I was finishing it. I don't see a reply here, so assume it didnt' come through.

I don't have anything on the Charlotte Co. VA marriage you mentioned, BUT, if you have connections to Moores who are in turn connected to surnames Washburn, Davis and Patterson, you may be well be interested in a RW soldier that several of us are trying to trace, as he also seems connected to these surnames.

A John Moore who, according to RW pension, was b c 1754 Brunswick Co. VA, moved to Orange Co. NC before RW, and served from there. He m Eliz. Jones, moved to Rowan Co about 1798, then to Rutherford Co. NC c 1802, then to York Co. SC about 20 yrs later. A Priscilla Washburn testified that she knew him as a neighbor in Orange, and there's some connection between Moore/Washburn and McSwain. Some of his children m. into Davis and Patterson families. I think that the Mathews surname connects as well. If any of this sounds familiar, Roberta Pierson and I are both trying to isolate him (or rather, connect him) to other Moores in ALL those places where he lived, Brunswick, Orange, Rowan and Rutherford, so far without success. There's lots of notes on the board now about Moores in all of these places, that I thought you might be interested in if you hadn't seen them.

SCAGOULA CHRONICLE-STAI

Miss Nora Taylor, Lloyd W. Moore Wed Saturday

Miss Nora Taylor, daughter of Mrs. James D. Taylor and the late Mr. Taylor of Gautier, became the bride of Lloyd Willard Moore of Vancleave.

The wedding was Saturday night at Bethel Baptist Church.

The couple pledged their marriage as they stood before the Rev. Elory D. Walker of Perkinston. The double ring ceremony was performed at the altar decorated with arrangements of white flowers.

The bride entered on the arm of her uncle Leo Grimsley.

She wore a formal gown of lace and tulle over white bridal satin.

Mrs. Dolores Smith, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Dale Smith served as best man.

A reception was held by the bride's mother at their home. Assisting in receiving were the groom's parents, bride's mother and the bridal party. The house was decorated with potted green plants.

The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth, was centered with a three-decker cake.

The bride and groom cut the first slice of cake. The cake was served by Mrs. Elvin Webb, cousin of the bride. The punch table was centered with a crystal punch bowl.

Following the reception the bride changed to a traveling suit of white and black, and later left on a trip to Florida.

Mrs. Moore is a graduate of Pascagoula High School employed by R. E. Moore at Ocean Springs.

Mr. Moore attended high school in Meridian and is employed at Ingalls.

Out-of-town guests were the groom's parents and bride's grandmother Mrs. G. W. Taylor of Pascagoula, Mrs. Roland Ware, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ware and Miss Willie N. Carter of Vancleave.

HAVING FINE TIME ON FRENCH FRONT

John T. Moore of Mobile, Writes About Making "Old Jerry Duck" With Big Guns.

Mr. John T. Moore, a well known young Mobilian, now with the Rainbow division on the front line in France, writes back home to Mr. Bennie F. Krebs, giving some of his experiences since getting into real action. The young soldier writes in a happy vein and reminds his old friend and comrade that he will come back and be with his people again. The tone of his letter indicates that it is the life and while serious, has its bright sides to it.

Mr. Moore starts his leter thus: "How would you like to be here now and watch old Jerry duck every time we send a shell over to him? Well, believe me, we had him ducking last night enough to wear out that rough neck of his. Can you imagine hearing guns shooting from four to six hours on the stretch and about one hundred at a time? My Lord, man, you would think hades had broke loose sure enough. I am behind the lines waiting to relieve another of our division.

Good at Throwing Grenades.

"My platoon had a game yesterday afternoon and it took me back to old times. That night I could see the old Thoss nine of the City League, playing and the whole bunch on the jump. It really made me home sick. Tell all the boys hello for me and keep a job open for me on your team because I have had quite a good bit of practice throwing hand grenades and teaching the art to our men. I am now gas officer for the battalion, but hope to be relieved as soon as we go to the front. You should see how these boys fight. I could write a book about the things they do.

"When we were with the British we had very good weather, but while we are on the American sector we have had nothing but rain every day and I am about fed up on it.

"We passed through Paris but only saw some of the buildings. The French love the Americans like brothers. Every time the women see an American soldier they throw kisses if they are too far away, and actually kiss them if they can reach them. I know a girl who kissed me and every boy in my platoon." Mr. Moore writes that it does not get dark where he is until 10 o'clock and that day breaks at 2. His address is: John T. Moore, E company, 325 infantry, American Expeditionary Force, France, and he wants to hear from his friends.

CADET JOHN T. MOORE, JR.

The adjutant general of the Alabama National Guard notified Cadet John T. Moore, Jr., of Montgomery, Ala., that he was appointing him to the United States Military Academy from the Alabama National Guard. Cadet Moore graduated from Sidney Lanier High School in June, 1938, and entered Marion Institute in September, 1938, to prepare for the United States Military Academy. He was voted the best sergeant in the Marion Institute Cadet Corps in the 1938-39 session and is cadet captain in the R. O. T. C. unit of the school this year. He is a member of the rifle team and has served as treasurer of his class. He is an honor student, having been named on the dean's list seven times since attending the institute. Cadet Moore will take his entrance examinations to West Point in March and if successful will enter the United States Military Academy in July. He won this appointment on a competitive examination given in October. Captain Moore is the son of Col. and Mrs. J. T. Moore, of Montgomery, and formerly of Mobile.

MOORE HOME TO BE OPEN — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael C. Moore, 803 Kell Avenue in Pascagoula, will be among those opened on Sunday, March 22, from 1 to 5 p.m. as the eastern and central communities of Jackson County host their portion of the 40th annual Gulf Coast Spring Pilgrimage. Built in 1909, this home once housed Lake Elementary School. The original front doors are flanked by two round leaded glass windows. The home features beaded board walls, heart pine floors, and quarter transoms, accented with stained and leaded glass. The former auditorium has been modernized into a large family room, two bedrooms and baths. Stairs lead to the master suite in a partially-exposed loft. The Pilgrimage is sponsored by the Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs, with Mrs. F.B. Feeney chairing the event for the council. The local portion of the event is under the direction of Mrs. A.B. Hilley, assisted by Mrs. Jesse L. Dethloff, Lura Moore, Mrs. Paul H. Moore and Mrs. J.B. Norwood. Members of the Lake Garden Club of Pascagoula will be on hand at the home to serve as hostesses.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael C. Moore will be shown by members of the Lake Garden Club between 1 and 5 p.m. on Sunday, March 22, as the 40th annual Gulf Coast Spring Pilgrimage begins.

The garden clubs of Pascagoula, Moss Point and Gautier will host the first day of the Pilgrimage, which will continue through the month and into April.

The Moore home, located in the northern section of Pascagoula at 803 Kell Avenue, has a rich history, according to Lura Moore and Billie Anderson of the Lake Garden Club.

THE HOME, built in 1909, once housed Lake Elementary School, and many of the architectural features originally included in the design of the school have been maintained in the renovation of the building.

Lake Elementary School opened for students in grades one through five in 1905, and was then located on the Bogdahn property at the corner of Pine and Kell Streets.

According to a history of the school compiled by the school's Parent Teacher Association for its 1976-77 yearbook, the school Johnson, was an active and devoted member of the PTA for many years.

AMONG THE papers passed along to Mr. Johnson at his mother's death was an article written by Olga Delcomyn and appearing in the Jan. 25, 1935 Southern Kraft Edition of The Moss Point, Miss., Advertiser:

"In 1905, the Lake Avenue School had its beginning in the Lake Avenue Fireman's Hall," the author writes, "which was located at the rear of the present building.

"School was taught here for two sessions. The present lot was then purchased upon which was a small building, to be used as a school. This building was moved to a lot across from the school and made into a residence.

"The present building (now the Moore home — Ed.) was erected in 1909. This building had two rooms with a hall in the center. The faculty consisted of two teachers.

"In 1922, this building was remodeled by adding an auditorium. The faculty was then increased to three teachers. The Lake Avenue School was a ward school, and consisted of primary through fifth grade.

"An annual custom of this school for many years has been equipment and improvements to the school. This has been a flourishing PTA and they do much good work for the school."

VISITORS ENTERING the Moore home on Pilgrimage Sunday will pass through the original front doors of the school, and should notice the two round, leaded glass windows on each side of the doors.

Inside, under each of these windows in the center hall, stood a wash basin, one for the girls and one for the boys. Of particular interest are the beaded board walls and the heart pine floors.

According to a history of the school compiled by the school's Parent Teacher Association for its 1976-77 yearbook, the school had as some of its early principals Miss Mashburn and Miss Gussie Shelton Helm. Miss Belle Bailey was among its early teachers.

Marie Brash Hays was principal when the Lake Elementary PTA was organized in the late 1920s. Following her tenure, Miss Kathleen Kell served as principal until the school closed in January, 1939.

A history of the school has been preserved by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson, reveals many other facts about the school. Mr. Johnson's mother, the late Rosa the author writes, "which was located at the rear of the present building.

"An annual custom of this school for many years has been an Easter egg hunt. For several years after the school was erected, an annual exhibit was held which consisted of fancy work, drawings, maps, art work, papers, etc., of pupils.

"Judges were appointed to select the best work and award prizes. Since 1924, the fifth grade completed commencement exercises. This grade completed the class of study provided by this school. The pupils were then transferred to Central School.

"During the years from 1923 to 1934, the Lake Avenue PTA made and provided over $1,000 in equipment and improvements to the school. This has been a flourishing PTA and they do much good work for the school."

Arts, crafts to be shown at beach park

The Jackson County Area Chamber of Commerce will sponsor its 13th annual Arts and Crafts Show from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, May 2, at the Beach Park in Pascagoula.

The show will feature outstanding work from artists and artisans along the Gulf Coast, and will be open free to the public.

This year's show will feature improvements in parking, booth size, and other accommodations. Anyone interested in exhibiting in the show should contact the chamber office at 762-3391 for a registration form.

Exhibits are restricted to handmade items only, and the artist must be on hand to show and sell his work.

Fee to enter is $25 and must be received by the chamber before April 30. No group displays will be allowed.

Mrs. John T. Moore entertained on Monday at a very delightful and charmingly appointed afternoon party, having made Miss Grayce Steffey of Baltimore, the honoree of this delightful occasion. The party was in the nature of a "shower," tendered Miss Steffey whose mar- riage to Mr. Lewis G. Randall, in- strctor in the automobile mechanics, at Pascagoula Training Center, took place on last Wednesday and which claimed quite a bit of interest. The lovely bride-elect was showered with the most lovely presents, and suffice it to say that the event proved one of the most enthusiastic and cordial lot of land to enforce the payment said indebtedness.

IN GOD'S ARMY

I am a soldier in the army of my God. The Lord Jesus Christ is my Commanding Officer. The Holy Bible is my code of conduct. Faith, Prayer and the Word are my weapons of warfare. I have been taught by the Holy Spirit, trained by experience, tried by adversity and tested by fire. I am a volunteer in this army, and I am enlisted for Eternity. I will either retire in His army at the rapture or die in this army; But I will not get out, sell out, be talked out, or pushed out. I am faithful, reliable, capable and dependable. If my God needs me, I am there. If He needs me in the Sunday school, to teach the children, work with the youth, help adults or just sit and learn. He can use me Because I am there! I am a soldier. I am not a baby. I do not need to be pampered, petted, primed up, pumped up, picked up or pepped up. I am a soldier. No one has to call me, remind me, write me, visit me, entice me, or lure me. I am a soldier. I am not a wimp. I am in place, Saluting my King, obeying His orders, praising His name, and building His kingdom! No one has to send me flowers, gifts, food, cards, candy or give me handouts. I do not need to be cuddled, cradled, cared for, or catered to. I am committed. I cannot have my feelings hurt bad enough to turn me around. I cannot be discouraged enough to turn me aside. I cannot lose enough to cause me to quit. When Jesus called me into this army, I had nothing. If I end up with nothing, I will still come out ahead. I will win. My God has and will continue to supply all of my need. I am more than a conqueror. I will always triumph. I can do all things through Christ. Devils cannot defeat me. People cannot disillusion me. Weather cannot weary me. Sickness cannot stop me. Battles cannot beat me. Money cannot buy me. Governments cannot silence me and hell cannot handle me. I am a soldier. Even death cannot destroy me. For when my Commander calls me from this battlefield; He will promote me to Captain and then allow me to rule with Him. I am a soldier in the army, and I'm marching claiming victory. I will not give up. I will not turn around. I am a soldier, marching heaven bound. Here I stand! Will you stand with me? Guess what? If you've accepted Jesus Christ as your Savior, you're already enlisted! Question is, which part of the service are you in:

1. Active Duty: Serving the Lord faithfully, daily, and on duty 24-7?
2. Reserve status: Serving only when called upon or twice a year: Christmas and Easter?
3. Guard status: Backing up the Active Duty group? Or
4. AWOL! Absent with out the Lord?

Susan Moore

Susan Moore has worked as an assistant building official in Pascagoula for more than 11 years. Moore said she helps run the office smoothly, signing off on permits, taking in compliments and complaints from citizens and contractors and making sure contractors are properly licensed. Moore said she remembers the days after Hurricane Katrina as being very emotional and stressful. "I was dealing with my own loss and everybody else's." Her home was gutted four feet above the floor. "Now, it's much better," she said.

Moore handled the stress of her post-Katrina job so well that she was named Employee of the Month by a Rotary Club member. Moore is married and has a son, Robert. When she's not signing permits she enjoys fishing and walking her dog, an Australian Shepherd named Mollie.

Virgil Moore

Virgil Moore, a deputy with the Jackson County Sheriff's Office, has been in law enforcement since 1972. Moore handles crime prevention and drug awareness programs as well as community relations for the department. Moore was born in Carroll County and came to Jackson County in 1953 where he says it's been his home ever since. Virgil has raised six children, and has nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild child. Moore says his work allows him to meet new and interesting people and that there is no such thing as a routine day in law enforcement.

PASCAGOULA — The approaching marriage of Kiley Moore of Pascagoula and Jeff Leonard of Ocean Springs has been announced.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bragg (Linda) Moore of Pascagoula. She is the granddaughter of the late H.B. Moore and the late Gloria Moore, both of Pascagoula, and of Marie Boyette of Jackson.

She is a 2000 graduate of Resurrection Catholic School and graduated magna cum laude from Spring Hill College in 2004 with Bachelor of Arts degrees in English and theology. She graduated in 2006 with a Master of Education through the Alliance for Catholic Education at the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Ind. She was president of Delta Gamma Sorority and is a member of Sigma Tau Delta English Honor Society. She will begin teaching at Resurrection Catholic High School in the fall.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne (Anne) Leonard of Ocean Springs. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Jake (Jane) Leonard of Lexington, N.C., and Mr. and Mrs. Gary (Judy) Popel of Paxton, Ill.

Kiley Moore
Jeff Leonard

He is a 1998 graduate of Mercy Cross Catholic High School, and received an Associate Degree in nursing at the Jackson County Campus of Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus. He is employed as a surgical nurse at Ocean Springs Hospital.

The couple will exchange vows at 2 p.m. July 1, 2006, at Our Lady of Victories Catholic Church in Pascagoula.

" Tall and stately trees alone, do not make a forest; some underbrush and clinging vine are always necessary."

A 'character'

'Pie' — a slice of quick wit topped with humor

By DON BROADUS
Mississippi Press Staff

HURLEY — For years Pie Moore was one of Pascagoula's "characters."

Moore's antics about town and his letters to the editor touched almost everyone in some way or another over the past 50 years.

Moore is still a character, although not as visible. He is a resident of the County Home at Hurley.

An interview with Moore at the home proved he's as quick-witted as ever but it wasn't really an interview. It was more an exhibition.

"Is your name really Pie?"

"My name is William H. Pierre Gustava Toutom Beauregard 'Pie' Moore — the H. stands for Stonewall."

"What did you do for a living?"

"The man at the Social Security office asked me why I hadn't worked in 50 years. I told him I don't believe in drinking on the job."

"Is it true you were once a ladies' man?"

"It's still true. I got a bunch of girlfriends."

Born in New Orleans in 1909, Moore was the son of Charles Verhagen Moore. His grandfather, John T. Moore, owned the first iron hull steamer on the Red River in Louisiana and owned more than 20,000 acres of farm land in Louisiana and Mississippi at his death.

Moore's father added to the family land holdings, including 300 acres in Pascagoula, which included the Longfellow House, renamed "Bellevue" by Moore's mother.

"I should have been a millionaire," Moore said, "but the whiskey they made out on Bayou Cumbest was too good, some of the best whiskey in the world."

Moore attended military school in New Orleans but spent his summers in Pascagoula. After his father's death, his mother moved the family to Bellevue.

Moore's mother sold the Longfellow House in 1938 and finally sold most of the other property.

"I dealt in pecans all my life and drank lots of whiskey," Moore said.

Moore kept abreast with current events, both locally and nationally, and wrote editor about many of them.

No one was immuned from his pen but many of the letters were aimed as "shyster lawyers," "quack doctors" or crooked politicians.

They were an editor's [illegible] and usually good for a chuckle if not a plain old belly laugh.

Here's only a few examples:

With reference to unlawful flight:

"The writer stated several years ago that some day the Mobile Airport would load two DC 9 planes with birds and bees — Jailbirds and SOB's from Pascagoula, making an unlawful flight to avoid prosecution."

With reference to incarceration:

"All the writer knows is what I read between the lines in the Mississippi Press Register. I think we are going to have to add to the detention center."

With reference to religion:

"The writer was baptised in the Catholic Church and confirmed in the Episcopal Church and came near being a man of the cloth. When I see the tornadoes, floods and volcanos and other disasters, I think there must be a lot of sinners in this world."

With reference to contracting:

"The writer thinks it is permissible for the mayor of Pascagoula to operate a gambling joint, bootleg and rustle cattle, but I do not think he should be allowed to use the city equipment to contract building houses."

With reference to fire insurance rates:

"The writer's grandfather, Captain John T. Moore of New Orleans and Schriever had the first iron hull river steamer on the Red River in 1863. It was named the John T. Moore and the insurance rates were 50 percent lower than on wooden hulls ... there was a lot of drinking and gambling on these river steamers and Mark Twain told my grandfather, 'Never hit a man while he is down as he might get up.'

With reference to wages:

"When the Ingalls Iron Works moved from Chickasaw to Pascagoula in 1938, they were building two oil barges and had 18 employees. The writer went to work for them and was the first office worker. My salary was $15 a week ... a first class welder was called a tacker and was paid 25 cents an hour. The first vessel ... was built $300,000 under contract and the money was returned to the Maritime Commission. This was the first and only time in history of shipbuilding that this was done. The Tampa Shipbuilding and Engineering was building the same vessels and were paying $1.25 an hour for welders. Every time Mr. R.I. Ingalls came down from Birmingham, the writer would go to lunch with him and every other time he would let me pay for the lunch."

With reference to intlation:

"The State of New York announced that it costs $12,000 a year to take care of a prisoner. In Nigeria it only costs 17 cents for a bullet for the firing squad."

With reference to girls:

"In the Sept. 7, 1978, Mississippi Press there was a picture of two girls in the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City Wednesday night. The preliminary winners were Miss Minnesota in swimsuit and Miss Alabama for talent. The writer is a 69-year-old bachelor and does not know much about girls but I could see that the girl in the swimsuit had the most talent."

$2020 In Fines Paid To County Thru 97 Arrests

Three county highway patrolmen made 97 arrests for traffic violations during August that resulted in fines of $2020, according to reports filed Tuesday with supervisors.

Matt Cox, who patrols west of the river, reported 28 arrests of which five were for reckless driving and two for drunken driving. Twenty-four cases were disposed of bringing fines of $665. Cox also recovered two stolen cars.

Howard Elzey, who works the east section of the county, made 34 arrests which resulted in fines of $690. Six of the arrests were for reckless driving and four for drunken driving.

Harold Jones, with headquarters at Pascagoula, reported 29 arrests with 29 cases disposed of and fines of $665. Reckless driving brought 10 arrests and drunken driving four. Jones recovered three stolen cars during the

No Pine Cones Are Bought Yet

No cones are being purchased at this time, R. H. Miller, area forester, said today. The cones have not matured as yet, the forester explained.

When cones mature, Miller stated, there will not be a local pick-up of cones by the forestry commission truck as in the past.

All cones will have to be transported to a pick-up station by the picker where the cones will be graded and culled.

Only cones that pass the grading test will be purchased.

Persons interested in gathering cones should continue to watch the Chronicle for dates of picking and location of pick-up station, Miller said.

Three-Year-Old Lives Because Man Read Respiration Article

A tiny brown-haired girl is alive today — and as pert as only little girls not quite three can be — "because God willed it that way."

That's what her mother says.

And her rescue Monday from the swift waters of Dog River, the 20 fear-filled minutes she lay on a sand bar while a neighbor fought to force life-giving breath into her strangled lungs, seem to bear out the mother's simple statement of faith.

The little girl is Eva Antionette Jones, who will be three Jan. 1, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis A. Jones, Hurley.

The neighbor who saved her life because he had read a magazine story some weeks ago on a new method of artificial respiration is Forest Coleman, 25, Hurley.

It all started as a happy Labor Day picnic at Parker's Bluff on Dog River near Hurley.

Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Jones, their six children John, 16; Dianne, 14; Mike, 12; Steve, 10; Gary, 8 and Eva; a brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Jones, Hurley, and a Moss Point friend.

"We had finished lunch about 1:30 p.m. and were getting ready to pack up and go home," Mrs. Jones said. "Miss Katherine Granthom, a friend of ours who used to teach in the Hurley School and my husband's brother said they would take the children for one last wade while we were getting things ready to go.

"Katherine swam across the river to a sand bar and Bernard put the children in a skiff that had an outboard motor on it.

"The children were all up in front of the boat and as it turned away from the bank to cross the river, water started coming over the bow.

"He called to them and said for them to come to the back of the boat. I guess they got excited and instead of one or two moving they all started back to Bernard.

"I was looking and saw it happen. When they went to the rear of the boat the water in the bow came rushing back and the boat

Mrs. Marcus Boyd Dies At Residence After Long Illness

After a lengthy illness, Mrs. Marcus E. Boyd, 30, died Monday at her residence, 1412 Cleveland, in Pascagoula.

A native of Philadelphia, she had been a resident of Pascagoula for 15 years. She was a member of Our Lady of Victories Church and was formerly active in affairs of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The body was taken Monday by Fails Funeral Service to Philadelphia for funeral services there. Prayer service was conducted in Pascagoula by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. P. J. Carey.

Services were held in the Catholic Church with interment in Cedar Lawn Cemetery.

She is survived by her husband; two sisters, Mrs. J. A. Masina of Laurel and Mrs. W. R. Tindol of Stallo; and four brothers, C. M. Stokes of Pascagoula, C. C. of Memphis, C. D. of Laurel, and O. C. of Philadelphia.

"Lightning, by combining nitrogen and oxygen, creates 100 million tons of plant food a year, raining down far more than is produced by all the commercial fertilizer plants."

And then Pie went on to explain that this has been a year of severe lightning. His trees in the Moore pecan orchard are of several varieties. He has estimated damage from limbs breaking about 20% of his crop.

The Stuart variety is the most effected, the most overproduced. Besides the effect of lightning, he explains that a severe winter will run the sap down deep in the roots. When warmer weather comes, the sap rises and the crop is heavier.

Some of the limbs are touching the ground. "And we still have several weeks to go," he said. "Lots of these limbs will break—they just can't hold the load," he continued.

In addition to the lightning, excessive rains have damaged the Schley and Success varieties. He estimates 90% damage to these two.

To most of the people in this area, the pecan tree is a thing of beauty, quite desirable for shade and the producer of a delicious nut for making candy or helping pay taxes.

But to Pie, it tells quite a

Husband Is Shot, Woman Arrested On Assault Charge

A 55-year-old Escatawpa woman is being held on a charge of assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of her husband, Beat Two constable Carl Wilson said today.

In County Jail is Mrs. Margaret Frye.

She is charged with having shot her husband, Clarence W. Frye, during an argument at their Escatawpa home about 6:30 a.m. Friday, Wilson said.

According to Wilson, who with deputy sheriff Eddie Barnes investigated the incident, the two had been quarreling since about midnight.

About 6:30 a.m. they were in the bedroom of the home with Mrs. Frye seated on the bed and Frye in a chair.

Mrs. Frye said her husband left the room and returned with a knife and that she then shot him with a .38 pistol, Wilson said.

Frye denied that he had armed himself with a knife and said his wife shot him as he was seated in a chair in the bedroom, the officer said.

Mrs. Frye fired twice, striking her husband once in the shoulder and missing him the second time, he added.

Frye was first taken to County Hospital by an unidentified cousin who lives with the couple, Wilson said, and then transferred to Veterans Hospital at Biloxi.

different story. Pecan growing is his main interest. He has made a thorough study of the business. In fact, the pecan business has been handed down by his progenitors.

The Orange Grove orchard was begun with 400 trees in 1900. Ten years later, 200 trees were added.

"Back in the old days, lots of folks would say you were crazy for risking time and money on such an investment," he said. Pie's grandfather, W. A. Pollock, kept a scrapbook in which many articles on pecan raising may be found.

One such story, with a 1915 date, mentions many names of prominent Jackson County families. Some of these are I. P. Delmas at Pascagoula, where it is believed the pecan was first planted in the United States.

From the article, one might read:

"The success attained by I. P. Delmas of Pascagoula is another example of what determination might accomplish in the matter of developing an orchard. Some 15 years ago (which would be in the year 1900) this Jackson County man bought a tract of land at $5 an acre which excited the risibilities of his friends.

"Why the timber is gone from this land, they told him, and in its denuded state it is practically worthless.

"But Mr. Delmas had an inspiration and paid no attention to the jeers of his friends. Today he is the envy of those who laughed at him, for he has 400 eleven to fifteen year old trees and this year gathered 15,000 pounds which he sold at 32 cents a pound, or $4800 for his crop. For the past three years he has averaged more than $4000 a year and this amount will be increased from year to year as the trees grow older.

W. H. Bouslog," the article informed.

"Another famous name in the pecan business," Pie said, "is Pabst. This variety is known far and wide now. And it was originated in Ocean Springs. It's a good variety.

"But," he continued by way of humor, "my mother's such a prohibitionist; I can't raise this variety."

His mother lives with him in the Moore home on the edge of the orchard.

At one time, the family was heir to the beach property which is now Longfellow House.

Pie's grandfather came from Virginia to Greenville and visited in this area. He later returned and bought, for $5000, some 300 acres, including the future Longfellow House.

Pie's mother, Marie Elise Pollock, and her sister Olive Alice owned the property when their father died. "They were offered $100,000 for it in 1926 but Aunt Olive didn't want to sell it," Pie said.

"Then the depression came. We had to do something. So we sold Longfellow House to enable us to keep the pecan orchard. It was in 1938 that we sold it—got $9500 for it. But we did keep the orchard. It was at that time I named it Frustration Orchards," Pie said.

Pie estimates this year's crop at about 60,000 pounds. "Unless we have a hurricane, this should be the best year. In 1955, I harvested 45,000 pounds."

Pie, with his easy-going manner, said the lightning has had its effect, the rains have done their damage already, and

They can be bought on a lease-rental basis, he said. In the municipalities, cost could be borne jointly by the county and city.

"I don't believe we could go in cold on a proposition that costs that much money," Moran said. "We would like to know more about the machines. What they would save, what the cost of upkeep would be.

"But we don't want to close the door, either. I believe we should confer with Pascagoula officials and see what can be done towards getting them for some of their larger precincts on a trial basis."

A conference with city officials will be set soon Hague and Khayat said.

there's not much we can do about the hurricanes, if they do come.

"Just plan again for next year, I guess," he said.

(Footnote—The "other half" of the Pie Moore pecan story will be published in a subsequent issue of the Chronicle-Advertiser. Many interesting and valuable facts were offered by Pie, some his own, while many others are from his grandfather's scrapbook and other publications.)

Our Opinion

Bragg Moore, teacher

"My heart is singing for joy this morning! A miracle has happened," Anne Sullivan said. "The light of understanding has shone upon my little pupil's mind, and behold, all things are changed!"

Longtime Resurrection Catholic School teacher Bragg Moore has seen the shine of knowledge in his students' brains, the same gleam Sullivan saw in the miraculous mind of her pupil, Helen Keller.

Last week, the school where Bragg Moore invested his considerable gifts as a teacher for generations of students honored him with a special day. It was also Bragg Moore Day in Pascagoula.

The blood of the Moore family runs deep at Resurrection. Moore's great-grandmother was valedictorian of the school's first graduating class. Moore himself attended the school and sent his two children there.

Moore's influence spread beyond the classroom, making an eternal difference, his former students and colleagues say. Perhaps that is his greatest legacy.

Senior Trey Bolling said it best:

"He has really helped me get through the hardest times of my life," Bolling said. "No other single person has influenced my life more than Mr. Bragg Moore."

Even in retirement Moore will continue to serve the Diocese of Biloxi as director of youth ministries. The Moore connection to RCS will continue when his daughter joins the faculty this fall.

So while Moore leaves the classroom, his legacy of learning that brightened the minds of hundreds of young people continues.

And our community will continue to be changed, for the better, as the light of understanding still gleams.

JEAN MAULDIN MOORE

Jean Mauldin Moore, 82, died October 17, 2011, in Pascagoula.

Jean was born in Meridian on June 12, 1929, and had lived in Pascagoula for 48 years. She grew up in Waynesboro, Mississippi, earned her bachelor's degree in 1952 at the University of Mississippi, and taught school for 8 years.

She was an active member of the First Presbyterian Church of Pascagoula where she had served as moderator of Presbyterian Women, taught Sunday School and served on countless committees.

She was very active in the life of the community. Jean was a member of the Pilgrimage Garden Club, United Way Board, Singing River Medical Alliance, and the Medical Alliance of Mississippi. She was a founding member and president of Pascagoula Pride and a charter member of the Pascagoula-Moss Point Junior Auxiliary. Along with her husband, she was a great supporter of the University of Mississippi and the University of Mississippi School of Medicine.

Jean was preceded in death by her parents, William Ollie and Annie Mae Riley Mauldin and her sister, Joyce Mauldin Warner.

Survivors include her beloved husband of 62 years, Paul Harold Moore, MD; son Paul H. (Hal) Moore, Jr., MD and his wife Melanie; son William Mauldin Moore and his wife Kay; grandchildren Paul H. Moore III, MD and his wife Mary Kempton; J. Cole Terrell and his wife Devin; John Larsen Moore and his wife Aleisha; Emily Stratton Moore, Michael Riley Moore, and Mollie Mauldin Moore; great-grandchildren Ravyn Faith Rudolph, Stratton Cole Terrell, Alice Mauldin Moore and Gage Cadogan Moore; and her nephew Robert Lee Warner, Jr., MD and his wife Mary Ellen and numerous other nieces, nephews, other relatives, friends and caregivers.

Leader: Come let us join our hearts in a chorus of praise,
People: And lift up our voices with the saints of every age!
Leader: Let this place be filled with a spirit of joy,
All: For God is in this place with gifts of life and love!

* The Hymn No. 138
"Holy, Holy, Holy! Lord God Almighty" NICAEA

The Prayer of Confession

As we stand before You O Lord, our hearts unfold in the sunshine of Your love. How difficult it is sometimes, to see how far short we fall of Your design for our lives. You have given so much to us - invested so much in us. We confess that we cannot reach out unless You reach through us, nor give except You give through us. We offer our imperfect lives and wayward hearts to the transforming power of Your love. Free us, O God, from the bondage of self and let the miracle of Your love be expressed through these broken hearts. For Jesus' sake we pray. Amen.

The Assurance of Pardon and Call to Obedience

* The Response RESURRECTION

God sent His Son, they called Him Jesus;
He came to love, heal, and forgive;
He lived and died to buy my pardon,
An empty grave is there to prove my Savior lives.
Because He lives, I can face tomorrow; because He lives, all fear is gone;
Because I know He holds the future,
And life is worth the living just because He lives.

PASCAGOULA — More than 150 people joined Bragg Moore to celebrate a day in his honor Friday.

After 30 years with Resurrection High School as a teacher and coach, Moore has decided to retire. Students, parents and fellow teachers and administrators honored the years Moore gave to the school with a day of festivities, beginning with a Mass at Our Lady of Victories Catholic Church in Pascagoula.

Father John McGrathof Holy Spirit Catholic Church in Vancleave, spoke during the Mass. McGrath, a former principal of the school, is Moore's cousin.

"His family history really runs parallel with the history of this parish," McGrath said about Moore.

McGrath said Moore's great-grandmother was valedictorian of the first graduating class. Moore went to the school and sent his two children, Matt and Kiley, there, as well.

McGrath spoke about Moore's faith and the way he incorporates that in his daily life as a teacher and a person.

"His beliefs stand in opposition to our society's concept of right and wrong. The basis of everything is the solid spirituality Bragg has," McGrath said.

Trey Bolling, a senior at Resurrection and one of Moore's students, said a few words about his teacher. He said his introduction to the veteran teacher was in his freshman religion class.

"Never had I experienced a class like that," Bolling said.

Bolling said he learned more than just religion; he said he also learned about Jesus Christ in the class. He is taking a senior religion class under Moore now.

"He has really helped me get through the hardest times of my life. No other single person has influenced my life more than Mr. Bragg Moore," Bolling said.

Pascagoula Mayor Matthew Avara proclaimed Friday Bragg Moore Day, in honor of his service in the Diocese of Biloxi and in the community.

"It's been a remarkable road. There'll be a lot of things that I'll miss," Moore said to the crowd.

He promised to stop by the school for visits in the future. His remarks were met with a standing ovation from those in attendance.

"A big piece of myself is in this property," Moore said later in an interview, as he greeted former students home from college for the event, as well as current students and other Pascagoula residents.

Matt Moore, a senior at Resurrection, presented the first Bragg Moore Scholarship during the service to Jesslinn Clark, a sixth-grader. Matt Moore explained the scholarship will help a rising seventh grader afford to attend Resurrection.

Moore said when he first heard about the plans for Friday's events, he requested funds be raised to provide the scholarship.

"They hope to do it every year. I hope they invite me back every year to give it," Moore said.

Moore will focus his attention on his duties as director of youth ministries for the diocese after retirement. His daughter will teach English and religion at Resurrection in the fall.

Students and faculty related anecdotes about Moore during a roast later Friday. The festivities ended with a block party hosted by the Resurrection PTO.

Moore's death a loss for community

I met Gloria Moore shortly after I joined The Mississippi Press in 1996. By then she had already retired after decades of serving as a reporter for this newspaper.

From the response of people with whom I talked following her death last week, I realize it was my loss that I didn't talk to her more often.

Moore

And gathering from those who knew her — which apparently was just about everybody — Pascagoula has lost a great person and a wealth of information.

Judy Johnson, who worked with Moore for years at the Press, recalled a great quote attributed to 1964 Pulitzer Prize winner Hazel Brannon Smith, the late publisher of the Lexington, Miss., Advertiser, who once told a critic: "I ain't no lady; I'm a newspaper woman."

"But Gloria was both," said Johnson, editor of The Times of Acadiana in Lafayette, La.

Johnson recalled that Moore believed not only in civic journalism but in promoting the community. And she was a woman of action.

"She always had the community's best interest at heart," she said. "If she saw something that needed to be fixed, she would make a phone call and get it fixed."

Longtime city attorney Melvin Mitchell said, "It was fun talking to her because she knew everything. She'd tell me things that were going on in the city that I didn't know about — and I work here."

Dan Davis

He added, "I used to tease her that I wouldn't know what happened at a city council meeting until I read it in The Mississippi Press."

Moore came by her interest in the community naturally. Her father, John Grant, was a member of the city council in the 1960s and was instrumental in bringing the United Way to Jackson County.

Elaine Kerr, chief professional officer of the United Way and Jackson and George Counties, recalled that Grant was the first director of what was originally called the United Fund. Part of the porch on his home on Pascagoula Street served as the first United Fund office.

Moore's grandfather, John Grant Sr., was one of Pascagoula's founders.

Gary Holland, former editor of The Mississippi Press, said that many at city hall considered her "the seventh councilman."

"She was dedicated to making sure people knew what was going on in the city. And she was a very good asset because she knew everything and everybody."

Bruce Bradley, the city's first mayor after it switched to the council-manager form of government in 1965, described her the way all journalists should want to be described: "She was sensitive and always searching for the truth."

But close friend Joanne Foster probably summed it up best: "We've lost one of our great cheerleaders and great supporters."

MAY YOU FIND ETERNAL REST.

WHOSOEVER BELIEVES IN ME, EVEN THOUGH
THAT PERSON DIE, HE SHALL LIVE, I AM THE RESURRECTION AND THE LIFE.
WHOSOEVER LIVES AND BELIEVES IN ME
SHALL NEVER DIE.
